New Westminster, October 9th, 1868. 2m

Such is the heading under our contemporary of the Colonist's issue of Friday, says:—"We heard from a very reliable source a piece of Government business known as the Naval Reserve, British Inlet, which was given by the Government to the British Columbia Vancouver Island Spar, Lumber Saw Mill Company, limited, for the purpose of felling timber to be at the company's mill, is about leased by Government to other parties really be true, it is a share piece of business on the part of Government, and is tantamount to giving one of almost vested rights and making void promises which to the investment of a large amount of capital by the company above in the erection of an expensive sawmill and other improvements trust the Government will adhere to its just promises and not evince of weakness by breaking faith parties who accepted promises binding as though they had been on vellum and duly executed." We are anxious to believe our contemporary has been misregard to the matter alluded to is not wittingly lending himself really had, one might almost say cause. Yet it is difficult to stand how the editor of a public paper in Victoria can be so profoundly ignorant respecting a matter has formed the subject of Crowded meetings, public resolutions and deputations to the Governor. The truth is the Naval Reserve question was never given over to the Mill Company to our contemporary acts the veritable, dignified and, doubtless, five part of common sense! The Naval Reserve was promised years to the party to whom it is now to be leased; and the line of duty which that promise has rendered so long unfulfilled is, perhaps, open to be characterized as "a full piece of business?" our contemporary will, therefore, perform the monact of justice of transferring the other side of the question to a testing little homily, upon credence of a promise. Now the Governor has been made aware of the merits of the dispute, and longer in danger of being deceived by a knot of unscrupulous persons has undertaken to see that it is done, we have no disposition to upbraid so very disagreeable a subject. We may be permitted to feel, however, before dismissing the subject, that the interests of a company which has already secured right of "felling timber" upon thousands of acres, are not likely to be very serious injury on account of reserve of some three hundred acres.

Amongst Atlantic Cable navigation and those progress science and art that mark the twentieth century, not the least are Dr. Ayer's medicines. They rank among the benefactions kind, from the rapidity and efficacy with which they cure. Try CHERRY PECTORAL on a cough is gone. What skin diseases of the face of the blood withstand SASSAPARILLA? Ayer's PILLS perfection of a purgative—every body should have them as a family medicine. Not a trifling thankful for a good medicine the knowledge how to use it for protection from disease. Dr. Ayer's preparations and put furnish, and we do not hesitate to commend them.—St. Louis Leader

SPURGEONRY.—Mr. Spurgeon recently rebuked certain of his who declined to interfere in on the ground that they "were this world." This, he argued, "being sheep of the Lord, eat mutton chop, on the pie would be cannibalism."

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1868.

THE "COLONIST" ON LOYALTY.

Our Victoria contemporary has been publishing extracts from the Blue-book, in which are contained facts not over agreeable to him. A passage in one of the Governor's despatches appears to have fairly raised his cholera. In writing to the Secretary of State, shortly after the proclamation of Victoria as the Capital, His Excellency is made to say, "although he was compelled, owing to a large majority of the Council voting in favour of Victoria for the Capital, to remove it to that city, he must confess that his sympathies were in favour of the loyal and enterprising people of New Westminster." This our contemporary tortures into an insinuation that the people of Victoria "are neither loyal nor enterprising." Such an insinuation he indignantly repels as a vile slander, declares that "the people of Victoria yield to none in loyalty; their attachment to their Queen and country is strong and sincere," and proceeds to administer chastisement to His Excellency in his own particular style, for daring to insult the people of Victoria by questioning their loyalty. Now, we do not think the above passage in the Governor's despatch is fairly susceptible of such an interpretation. We cannot agree with our contemporary in thinking that to characterize the people of this city as "loyal and enterprising" is to impute the reverse qualities to the people of his "ain toon;" nor do we for a single moment imagine that His Excellency so intended the language to be understood. A very eminent Royal author has placed it on record that "The wicked flee when no one pursueth." A more modern proverb says, "A guilty conscience needs no accuser." Although we are disposed to acquit the Governor of any intention to offend the tender consciences of our neighbours upon, to them, so delicate a subject, and although we think the language employed does not justify the inference drawn, yet we are bound to admit that His Excellency would have been amply justified in raising a question as to the loyalty of Victoria. It was only a few months previously that the Colonist assured him that the people of Victoria were stretching their necks and casting longing looks across the forty-ninth parallel of latitude, and that nine-tenths of them eagerly desired more intimate connection with their Republican neighbors! Did the Colonist slander the people of Victoria then? But, while exonerating the Governor, in so far as the charge brought against him by our contemporary is concerned, we think we can discover, in the above extract, just and substantial ground for a far more serious charge. We allude to the implied pretence that he was compelled, owing to the vote of the Council, to remove the Capital to Victoria. Such a position is as inconsistent with His Excellency's professions and messages as it is with facts. How was the large majority vote obtained? How were vacancies filled? Why was the Council packed?

THE WEATHER.—A great deal of rain has fallen during the past week, so that the forest fires have been effectually checked if not wholly extinguished. The weather continues very mild and pleasant.

CARIBOO AND THE ASSAY OFFICE.

We understand that the miners and traders of Cariboo have petitioned the Governor for the establishment of a branch of the Government Assay Office in Cariboo. The immediate cause of this step is, we believe, the action of the Bankers in reducing the price of gold dust one per cent. below what has hitherto been paid for it. We have for some time been of opinion that it might be the duty of the Government to establish such a branch, simply as a protection to the miners; and the circumstances to which we have alluded is well calculated to dissipate any lingering doubt upon the subject. There can be no question that whatever tends to encourage and protect the miners, and enable them to readily obtain full value for the product of their daring and their toil, is in the general interest of the country; and should the establishment of a branch Assay office involve some little expenditure we feel well assured that no one will complain. But we are greatly disposed to think that such an establishment, conducted in a liberal spirit towards the miners as regards a scale of charges, will inflict a very slight burden, if any, upon the general revenue. We sincerely trust the petition will be favorably received.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.—The Council met on Monday evening at the usual hour, the President in the Chair. The Report of the Board of Health was submitted. The Report bears testimony to the faithfulness and zeal with which the gentlemen composing the Board have discharged their far from agreeable duties. According to it, the general sanitary condition of the town is good, and there is little disease amongst the Indians. The most rigid sanitary regulations have been enforced in the Indian dwellings and the smallpox has almost entirely disappeared, only two cases having occurred during as many weeks. In this city 1353 Indians have been vaccinated. Of these 850 were vaccinated by the Obiete Fathers, and 503 by Dr. Jones.

A Resolution was passed by the Council, directing the Clerk to apply to the Harbor-master for a copy of his last Report respecting the entrance to this port.

Several other items of business having been disposed of the Council adjourned.

UP-COUNTRY NEWS.—The str. Onward, Capt. Irving, returned last evening from Yale, bringing about 30 passengers and a local mail and express. There is no Cariboo express by this steamer. From the Yale Examiner we glean the following:—The nomination at Hope and Yale had taken place. Mr. Havelock was, as we expected, unopposed. The nomination at Lytton would, doubtless, result in a similar way. A meeting was held at Yale on Thursday evening to hear Mr. Havelock's views. He spoke for an hour. During last week 110,000 lbs of freight was shipped to the interior from Yale. Messrs. Kimball & Gladwin have built a freight shed at the steamboat landing, 18x42 feet. Good pay has been struck on the Similkameen River. A Chinese farmer at Lillooet sowed 4600 lbs of wheat on about four and a half acres last Spring. He has had thrashed out of it 14,700 pounds, or over fifty bushels to the acre! It is said to be the best wheat grown in the Colony.

FROM THE INLET.—The str. Isabel came round from Burrard Inlet yesterday, and took away 24 tons of timothy hay belonging to Mr. Richardson, of the Telegraph Company, and grown upon Mr. E. Brown's farm, immediately opposite this city.

UP AND DOWN.—The telegraph line between here and Yale, which has been down for many weeks on account of the fires was up and working on Monday, but went down again, from some cause or other, yesterday.

THE ASSIZES open in this city this day-week. We believe there is, as usual, very little to do.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1868.

"BROKEN FAITH."

Such is the heading under which our contemporary of the Columbian, in his issue of Friday, says:—"We have heard from a very reliable source that a piece of Government property known as the Naval Reserve, Burrard Inlet, which was given by the Government to the British Columbia and Vancouver Island Spar, Lumber and Saw Mill Company, limited, for the purpose of felling timber to be used at the company's mill, is about to be leased by Government to others. If this really be true, it is a shameful piece of business on the part of the Government, and is tantamount to depriving one of almost vested rights and making void promises which lead to the investment of a large amount of capital by the company above named in the erection of an expensive sawmill and other improvements. We trust the Government will adhere to its just promises and not evince signs of weakness by breaking faith with parties who accepted promises as binding as though they had been written on vellum and duly executed by all." We are anxious to believe that our contemporary has been misled in regard to the matter alluded to, and is not wittingly lending himself to a really bad, one might almost say, wicked cause. Yet it is difficult to understand how the editor of a public newspaper in Victoria can be so profoundly ignorant respecting a matter which has formed the subject of Crown prosecutions, newspaper discussions, indignation meetings, public resolutions, and deputations to the Governor. The truth is the Naval Reserve in question was never given or promised to the Mill Company to which our contemporary acts the very honorable, dignified and, doubtless, lucrative part of common tooter! The Naval Reserve was promised years ago to the party to whom it is now about to be leased; and the line of conduct by which that promise has remained so long unfulfilled is, perhaps, fairly open to be characterized as "a shameful piece of business" by our contemporary will, therefore, perform the common act of justice of transferring to the other side of the question his interesting little homily upon the sacredness of a promise. Now that the Governor has been made aware of the real merits of the dispute, and is no longer in danger of being deceived by a knot of unscrupulous persons, but has undertaken to see that justice is done, we have no disposition to open up afresh so very disagreeable a subject. We may be permitted to remark however before dismissing this subject, that the interests of a Mill Company which has already secured the right of "felling timber" upon fifteen thousand acres, are not likely to suffer very serious injury on account of a reserve of some three hundred acres!

Amongst Atlantic Cables, steam navigation and those progressions of science and art that mark the nineteenth century, not the least useful, are Dr. Ayer's medicines. They take rank among the benefactions of mankind, from the rapidity and certainty with which they cure. Try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL on a cough and it is gone. What skin diseases or impurities of the blood withstand AYER'S SARSAPARILLA? AYER'S PILLS are the perfection of a purgative—every family should have them as almost every family does. Not a trifle to be thankful for are good medicines and the knowledge how to use them for protection from disease. These Dr. Ayer's preparations and publications, furnish, and we do not hesitate to commend them.—St. Louis Leader.

SURGEONISTIC.—Mr. Spurgeon recently rebuked certain of his followers who declined to interfere in politics on the ground that they "were not of this world." This, he argued, was mere metaphor. You might as well, he said, "being sheep of the Lord, decline to eat mutton chop, on the plea that it would be cannibalism."

"Honor to whom Honor."—In alluding, on Saturday, to the fact of Mr. Scott having made a remarkably quick trip from Cariboo, we omitted to mention that he travelled by Barnard's stage line, and that, consequently, whatever merit there was in the feat belonged chiefly, if not wholly to the enterprising proprietor of that line. We find that the time occupied in making the trip from Barkerville to Yale was four days! Four hundred miles in four days, and that by stage-coach, in the end of October, through the interior of British Columbia!! From the foot-hills of the Rocky Mountains to the head of steamboat navigation on the Lower Fraser in four days!!! Bravo Barnard.

GOING AWAY.—We understand it is the intention of His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Seymour to take their departure by H.M.S. Sparrowhawk, this morning, for their bleak winter habitation on Vancouver Island. Our readers will be glad to learn that His Excellency has recovered his wonted health.

NO STEAMER.—The str. Enterprise did not return from Victoria yesterday, probably owing to the elections; we are, therefore, cut off from our usual sources of news in that direction.

CANADIAN SUMMARY.

Our Canadian files are to the 17th September. The Hon. John Rose, Minister of Finance, had gone to Washington for the purpose of settling the details of a new Reciprocity Treaty. It was understood that Lord Monck would continue in office some time longer, as the Imperial Cabinet deem it imprudent to make a change at present. A rumor was current to the effect that Mr. Howe had accepted the office of Chairman of the Railway Commission. It was understood that the Hon. Dr. Tupper would also take office in the present Government. Bishop Faltord, of Montreal, died on the 24th September, being 65 years of age. He was Metropolitan. The funeral took place on the 12th, and was a most imposing ceremony. The "Precedence Order" recently issued for the Dominion, has raised a "jolly muss" amongst the clergy. It recognizes the clergy of the Roman Catholic and Anglican Churches, but completely ignores all others. The St. John News, which may be said to speak for the Hon. Mr. Tilley, announces, "on the very best authority," that the insulting "Order" was wholly the work of the Imperial authorities, and urges the Dominion Government "to secure, by prompt and earnest expostulation, the withdrawal of the obnoxious part of the Order." A young lady in Montreal has commenced an action for breach of promise, laying the damages at $40,000. Quite a fuss had just occurred in Nova Scotia. Attorney-General Wilkins made a very bitter speech in the Legislature, in the course of which he used language which, as reported by the Press, appeared inconsistent with his position as a member of the Government of a British Colony. Lieutenant-Governor Doyle requested to be informed whether the disloyal sentiments attributed to him by the newspapers were really uttered by him. The Attorney-General replied, disclaiming disloyal sentiments and strongly asserting undying loyalty. The Governor replied, expressing gratification at the assurance, and proposing publication of correspondence, in order to place the Attorney-General and the Government right with the public. It was published accordingly. The publication of the correspondence caused a good deal of excitement, and the Assembly held a secret session in connection with it, and passed a resolution condemning the course of the Governor in relation to Wilkins, as interfering with the right of free speech. Governor Doyle, on learning this, informed his Ministers that unless the resolution was at once expunged he would dissolve the House. The House sat again with closed doors to consider the situation. The country members were in favor of standing by the resolution, and declared they did not fear a dissolution. The secret session lasted two hours, and resulted in the resolution condemning the Governor being expunged. The Provincial Secretary had made his financial statement for the year. The statement shows a balance in hand of $22,000, and that, too, after a year of extraordinary expenditure, and without having recourse to additional taxation. Yet in the face of such hard facts as these the Secretary thinks the financial affairs of the Province only one remove from bankruptcy, a condition of course attributed to Confederation. It appears that during the year Nova Scotia has received from the Dominion Treasury something like $300,000 more than she contributed to it. The Dominion press is indulging in a good deal of facetiousness at the expense of the Provincial Secretary, who has allowed his "anti" feelings to lead him into such an absurd attitude. The Inverness election Committee reported Mr. Blanchard's election illegal, and declared his seat vacant. Mr. Blanchard was the leader of the union party in the House, with a following of one! He expressed himself ready for the fresh contest, and confident as to the result. It is estimated that the fires in the woods and forests of Canada have destroyed property to the value of not less than $5,000,000. Mr. Colquhoun, a large stock farmer near Montreal, has imported a two year old heifer from England, for which he paid $5000. The foundation stone of a new College for the education of ladies, has just been laid in London, Ontario, by the Lord Bishop of Rupert's Land. It will be called "Hellmuth College." There lives in the township of Goderich, Ontario, a centenarian of the name of George Shepherd, who was born in Ireland in 1762. Although in his one hundred and sixth year, he is still hale and hearty, and was able to swing the cradle this harvest! The accounts from Red River Settlement are of the most distressing character. Every green thing has been eaten up by grasshoppers, the buffalo has failed, and absolute famine stares the settlers in the face. Appeals for help are being made to the public of Canada and the adjoining States. It appears that the country experienced a similar visitation of grasshoppers some thirty years ago; but on that occasion there was a plentiful supply of buffalo.

THE TRIAL OF JAMES WHELAN.

Our Canadian exchanges are largely occupied with a report of the trial of James Whelan, the assassin of the late lamented Thomas D'Arcy McGee. This trial, the issue of which was made known to us some weeks ago by means of the magnetic telegraph, commenced at Ottawa, on Monday, the 7th September, and the reception of evidence occupied six days, only terminating late on Saturday. Under these circumstances, Chief Justice Richards, who presided, decided to adjourn the Court till the following Monday in order to afford time for the Counsel on both sides to address the jury, and for his own summing up. Inasmuch as our files are only to the 14th, we are still without the concluding report. The interest in this trial appears to have been very great, and extending far beyond the limits of the Dominion, the press of the United States being well represented. Every day throughout the trial the Court House was thronged, many hundreds failing to obtain ingress. One novel feature appears to have been the presence of ladies in large numbers, and that of the "Upper Ten," a very unusual thing in a Canadian Court of Justice. Day by day the proportion of ladies increased; so much so, indeed, that one newspaper correspondent declares that had the trial lasted another week the auditory would have been composed entirely of ladies! The Crown Counsel, James O'Reilly, with his brother, Peter O'Reilly, conducted the case for the prosecution; the Counsel for the defence being the Hon. J. H. Cameron, Q. C.; the Hon. M. C. Cameron, Q. C.; Mr. Kenneth McKenzie, Q. C.; Mr. John O'Farrell, of the Quebec Bar, and Mr. Buckley, of Ottawa. Much time was occupied in selecting a jury, the counsel on both sides exhausting the right of challenge. Inasmuch as the main features of the evidence against Whelan have long been known, we would not be warranted in fatiguing our readers with a recapitulation of what was evolved in the course of the trial. Suffice it to say that Whelan appears to have been one of a number (how many doth not appear,) of Irishmen who had for some time, certainly ever since the Montreal election, conspired against the life of their illustrious countryman, whom they appear to have thought, or profess to have thought a traitor to their cause and country. Few who have read the long chain of circumstantial evidence will fail to reach the conclusion that the conspiracy was co-extensive with Fenianism itself, and that Whelan and his more immediate associates were the instruments employed. The conspiracy was undoubtedly hatched in Montreal, and the original plan was to murder McGee in his own house, in pursuance of which Whelan called at 2 o'clock one morning last fall, but his purpose was frustrated owing to the presence of Mr. McGee's brother. Tracking his victim from Montreal to Ottawa, and back again, when confined to his bed by illness, Whelan re-appeared at Ottawa when McGee returned to his Parliamentary duties. It was observed that when McGee was absent Whelan was absent, and vice versa; in fact he appeared to follow him like a shadow until at last he consummated the hellish purpose upon which his thoughts had for so long been concentrated, under the circumstances already known. For the prosecution there were forty-two witnesses; for the defence twenty-two. It was admitted on all hands that the defence proved a miserable failure; in fact, rather tended to strengthen the case for the Crown. Indeed, in reading the evidence, we confess to difficulty in evading the conviction that the principal witnesses for the defence were suborned. On more than one occasion the very able Counsel for the defence must have experienced a feeling of relief when their own witnesses were permitted to leave the stand. It is already known that the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and that the wretched man has been sentenced to expiate his fiendish crime in December. The trial of those men who are under arrest as accessories before the fact, will not, it is understood, come off before the spring. The evidence given during Whelan's trial leaves more than one of these men in no enviable position. Indeed, it is scarcely less conclusive against them as accessories than against Whelan as principal. Whatever may be the issue of these trials, there can be little doubt left in the Canadian mind that there existed in their very midst branches of American Fenianism, with the material and machinery capable of the commission of any crime in the supposed furtherance of the insane object had in view. It is equally beyond doubt that no more fatal blow could have been aimed at Fenianism than the assassination of Mr. McGee. The blood of this single individual has probably done more towards "stamping out Fenianism" than would seas of Fenian blood, poured forth according to law. Perhaps, after all, the slaying of poor McGee was a merciful providence to avert the shedding of much blood.
